Town meeting vote set for June

BY BRIGIT MCCALLUM
brigit@waterbororeporter.com

Waterboro's Town Administrator Gary Lamb has reported that there will be a vote on the June 13 ballot to see whether or not to replace the annual town meeting with referendum voting beginning with the new fiscal year starting July 1, 2017.

This is a result of a petition drive where 1,038 verified signatures were collected the day of last November's election. The town will still have a traditional town meeting on Saturday, June 18, which could be the last one, if the June 2017 ballot question passes.

Disc golfers unite for a friend

Woodland Valley Disc Golf in Limerick hosted a fundraiser on New Years Day for the family of Justin Perry of Standish, which attracted 138 players from Maine, New Hampshire and New York, and became the largest tournament in state history.

Justin's wife Beckie lost her life, and their daughter Gretchen was seriously injured in a recent traffic accident on Route 35 in Windham. When word got out about the accident, the owners of Woodland Valley decided to change their annual Bloody Mary Doubles tournament to a fundraiser for the family to assist them with medical bills.

Woodland Valley donated all the green fees for the event, and players sold raffle tickets for a

Woodsome to Chair Energy, Utilities and Technology Committee

York County Legislator will also serve on Inland Fisheries and Wildlife Committee

Senate President Michael Thibodeau (R-Waldo) has appointed Senator David Woodsome (R-York) as Chair of the Joint Standing Committee on Energy, Utilities and Technology (EUT) once more.

"It's a privilege to be named Chair of this important committee for another term," said Senator Woodsome. "I am very proud of the work we accomplished last session. While we addressed and made progress on complex issues, we have to continue to explore all avenues of incorporating new ideas and technology to move Maine forward. The high cost of energy in Maine is a stranglehold on our economy. It makes it difficult to recruit new employers to our state, and businesses have cited it as a key factor time and time again as they reduced the size of their workforce or relocated elsewhere. I look forward to working with my colleagues on solutions to put Mainers back to work, because we can't afford to be uncompetitive any longer.

"Also of importance to me is that I have been appointed second senate chair to the Inland Fisheries and Wildlife Committee. As a life-long outdoors person, I have

Maine band selected to play presidential inauguration

Pride of Madawaska, the concert and marching band of the Madawaska Middle/High School since 1953, has been selected to perform in the 2017 presidential inauguration celebration. The band will perform in a welcoming concert on Thurs., Jan. 19 at the Lincoln Memorial, in Washington, D.C., and is one of only 12 ensembles from across the nation — the only group from Maine — invited to perform.

The “Make America Great! Welcome Concert,” will kickoff a three-day schedule of inauguration events, and will take place after President-elect Donald Trump and Vice President-elect Mike Pence lay wreaths at the Arlington National Cemetery. Trump will be sworn in as the 45th president of the United States at the U.S. Capitol on Friday, Jan. 20.

The northernmost town in New England, Madawaska is also considered one of the “four corners” — the northeasternmost point — of the continental United States.

Madawaska Middle/High School Principal Wayne Anderson said the school is proud of the band’s participation in the inauguration.

“This honor truly validates all the hard work, dedication and commitment by the student musicians,” Anderson said. “For them to be part of such a historic event not only reinforces their passions for music, but provides them a real life lesson in civics and government that most students will only experience in a textbook or on some visual media presentation.”

Band Director Ben Meiklejohn, who has been employed by the school department since October, said students are honored to participate in the concert. Meiklejohn marched with the Kennebunk High School band in President George Bush’s inaugural parade in 1989.

“Being part of a presidential inauguration is an experience of a lifetime,” Meiklejohn said. “It’s exciting to see that come around full circle, where these students get the same opportunity I had when I was in high school — to be part of a performance celebrating traditions of our democracy.”

Meiklejohn said he is proposing that the band perform a theme of “bringing leadership to the streets of America,” centered on Maine’s official motto, “Dirigo,” which means, “I lead.” The band will perform in a “Voices of America” segment of the concert.

The performance content is being coordinated with the 2017 Presidential Inauguration Commission.

The Pride of Madawaska’s Band Boosters group, a nonprofit organization, is soliciting sponsorships to fund the band’s travel and lodging costs. Donors may visit www.madawaskaschools.org for information on how to contribute.

Economic Development Committee activity

The Waterboro Economic Development Committee has launched a new initiative to introduce local businesses to the public. It will highlight one local Business of the Week on its Facebook page, and viewers will get the chance to vote for one to then be featured as the Business of the Month. It also plans to ask residents what kinds of businesses they would like to see come to town.

The committee has set two goals of highlighting businesses currently operating in the town of Waterboro and attracting potential new business. It has one format for communicating at this time, the Facebook page, and will soon have its own website on the Town of Waterboro page. At that time, all businesses in the town will be listed, offering this source of information to the public, along with a profile of each business and contact information. They also plan to include a web page for potential businesses, including available spaces to locate in town, local statistics and other information that a potential business would want to know when considering a potential location.

Anyone who has a business of any kind, whether in its own building or a home business, is invited to contact committee member Jim Southworth to sign up at 207-432-6798 or jamessouthworth@waterboro-me.gov.

Seeking sorters and volunteers

The library is looking for a few good book sorters to help sort book donations for the April book sale. If you have an hour or two, give the library a call and we can set up a time for you to put your skills to work. An advantage in sorting is you get first pick of our newly donated items.

The library is also looking for some skilled folks who would be willing to teach a workshop or hold a class on genealogy or quilting, and someone to oversee a Lego Club after school one day a week. Other ideas are also welcome. Call the library at 247-3363 or email librarian@waterborolibrary.org.

Winter sports etiquette and safety

With the recent heavy snows and cold temperatures, snowmobilers and skaters have taken to the trails and to the ice at the Carle's Corner Ice Rink. Amid the excitement, some requests are being sent to enthusiasts, reminding them that access to snow and ice happens through the efforts of many volunteers, and depends on the cooperation of everyone involved. Snowmobilers are being reminded that trails are mostly ten-foot right-of-ways across private property, and permission has not been granted for riding off-trail. An Ossipee Mountaineers Snowmobile Club notice reads, "We understand the fresh powder looks inviting but, our landowners graciously give us permission to ride in a designated area only, not all over their property."

And signs at the ice rink read, "Please hang your borrowed skates!! These skates are free to use. Please take care of them. It takes all of us to keep the rink open and areas clean. All services here are completed by volunteers, we need everyone's help!!"

In addition, OMSC reminds riders, "Please use extreme caution at road crossings as the snow banks are very high. Ossipee Lake is not completely frozen; there is open water in places! As always watch for groomers day and night and please yield to them."

They add, to everyone enjoying the outdoors, "Please be safe and enjoy the new season!!"

The jurisdiction of the Energy, Utilities, and Technology Committee includes energy resources, the electric industry, the natural gas industry, the telecommunications industry, E-9-1-1, water and sewer utilities, the Public Utilities Commission, the Office of the Public Advocate, and the Efficiency Maine Trust.

"Senator Woodsome has proven to be an effective leader on the EUT committee over the last two years," said Senate Majority Leader Garrett Mason (R-Androscoggin). "As we see another mill terminate an additional 190 jobs next month, the work of the EUT committee will become even more important over the next two years as we continue to address the high cost of energy in Maine. It is clear to me that Senator Woodsome is the right man for this job."

Assistant Senate Majority Leader Andre Cushing (R-Penobscot) also lauded Senator Woodsome's appointment. "Energy policy continues to play a key role in Maine's recovering economy. I am confident that Senator Woodsome will continue to lead the committee with integrity during this vital time."

Senator Woodsome represents Maine Senate District 33 which includes communities in York County.

Notre Dame brothers assist Sanford parish

Alfred's Notre Dame Brothers, as members of St. Therese Parish in Sanford, have become involved in an effort to assist a parish in Haiti which suffered greatly from Hurricane Matthew this past year. A trip to Haiti is being organized for 2017 to rebuild their church. A bulldozer has been donated to build a passable road into the region which will allow healthcare workers access into the area. A portable sawmill will allow the Haitians to cut timber felled by the hurricane and use the timber for necessary construction.

The trip to Haiti will be held this month for ten workers who will work on the church. Over $5000 has been donated by those attending Notre Dame Chapel during the Hurricane Matthew relief appeal.

Three African brothers visited Alfred this past October after attending the General Conference in Haiti. The visitors were Br. Gerard Byaruhanga, who reported on the meeting in Haiti, also Br. Edward Ismail and Br. Peter Kazekulya.

Travis Marsh got the scoring started with a goal six minutes into the game, Caron and Tanner McClure assisted. PLOG (1-1-1) tied it at one with just one second remaining in the first, but the momentum didn't carry over into the middle period as Caron made it 2-1 with an unassisted strike just two minutes in.

MOB (1-3) closed the game out with two unanswered goals in the third period. Aiden Russell assisted on a goal by Cam Roy at 2:42 and McClure pushed it to 4-1, Caron assisting, at 12:28.

Lady Mustangs remain winless

Massabesic's varsity girls' basketball team remained winless at 0-6 after a back-to-back contests on Jan. 3 and Jan. 4. Marshwood visited Massabesic on Tuesday, Jan. 3 and the shorthanded Mustang squad, starters Jackie Bearse and Emma Desrochers are out with injuries, hung tough in the first half. The Hawks knocked in a late basket before that half to take a slim 11-9 lead at the break.

The third was all Marshwood as the Mustangs didn't manage a point until guard Skylar Renaud bombed a half-court three-point shot as the buzzer sounded to end the quarter, but the damage was done as the Hawks lead swelled to 31-12. They finished off Massabesic with a 46-20 final.

Powerhouse Gorham hosted the Mustangs the next night, Wednesday, Jan. 4. The Rams remained perfect at 6-0 with a 75-40 triumph.

Help showcase Maine at the Big E

The Maine Department of Agriculture, Conservation and Forestry (DACF) is inviting Maine businesses and organizations to apply for exhibit space in the State of Maine Building at the 2017 "Big E" in West Springfield, Massachusetts. The Big E will be held from Sept. 15 to Oct. 1, but the deadline for completed applications to be received is Tuesday, Jan. 17.

The Eastern States Exposition (Big E) takes place every September in West Springfield, Massachusetts. The 2016 fair had 1,418,042 fairgoers passing through the Big E gates over seventeen days. The State of Maine building showcases Maine foods and products, as well as features information on Maine's many recreational and vacation opportunities. Built in 1925, the building is one of six exhibition halls representing each of the New England States.

The DACF is providing Maine businesses and organizations with the opportunity to rent commercial space in the State of Maine Building. More than 850,000 of the fairgoers visit the state buildings located on the Avenue of States, affording a tremendous opportunity to promote Maine and Maine products.

The Department's goal at the Big E is to exhibit, publicize, and advertise Maine's products and resources in agriculture, commerce, culture, food, fisheries, forests, wildlife, recreation and tourism. By presenting fairgoers with a balance of educational and commercial exhibits, participants exemplify Maine and its unique way of life. Only items which are produced, grown, crafted, manufactured or significantly altered in Maine may be sold in the Maine building.

All applications will be reviewed by an advisory committee and selected exhibitors will be notified by Friday, Feb. 3.

For more information about the Big E, visit www.thebige.com. Exhibitor Application Packets are available by contacting the Department, or online at www.maine.gov/dacf/ard/market_promotion/eastern_states_expo.shtml.
