Business group makes changes

By CYNTHIA MATTHEWS

The Cornish Association of Businesses (CAB) has new officers and a new name. The new President is Patrick Harrigan of Demers Real Estate, Vice President – Cristina Forsyth of Bustle and Grow, Treasurer is Bev Russell of Sacopee Veterinary Clinic and Heather Newman from the Local Gear is Treasurer. Their first vote was to change the name to Cornish ‘Area’ Businesses. “There are lots of new businesses in town,” commented Forsyth when asked about the name change, “and we wanted to include all of Sacopee Valley.” There are approximately 64 members currently, with many new businesses coming in. The letters and the logo remain the same for CAB, even with the slight name change.

CAB’s Annual Strawberry Festival was their first event of the year and took place on Saturday, June 29 at Thompson Park in Cornish. “Our vendor spaces were full,” added Forsyth. “Although we had a few pull out at the last minute, they were quickly replaced with vendors on our waiting list.” Forsyth also reported that there were more attendees this year, and that vendors saw an increase in sales.

So what about the strawberries? With the weather this year causing a delay in the strawberry harvest and the scarcity of strawberries available, having strawberries on hand was a worry. But, 15 flats were ordered from Pineland Farms, as soon as Pineland opened for the season, about six weeks before the event. The strawberries sold out by 12:30 p.m., and hour earlier than in 2018, according to Forsyth.

New this year was Strawberry Cotton Candy. Dr. Jeff Gilliland served it up at the CAB booth all day long – a super popular treat! CAB also had many other donated items available for raffle, including a strawberry color scheme quilt.

Cornish Area Businesses (CAB) is an all-volunteer organization, and all money earned during their three yearly events goes back into the community. CAB maintains the restrooms on the side of the Clothing Barn at Thompson Park. That’s one of their biggest expenses. CAB also provides a local Scholarship, and donates to other local organizations.

“The Cornish Festivals, Strawberry, Apple and Christmas in Cornish, take place 100 percent due to the efforts of our volunteers,” said Forsyth. “We are extending an open invitation to community members who would like to help put on these great events.” If you are interested in volunteering, contact cornishareabusineses@gmail.com. “We are always in need of volunteers,” she added. “You don’t have to be a CAB member!”

CAB meets at the Cornish Congregational Church (UCC) on Main Street the second Tuesday of every month at 6 p.m. “Non-members welcome,” said Forsyth. “We would love to have ideas, suggestions, comments from community members.” The next meeting is Tuesday, Aug. 13.

“I would like to personally thank the board, officers and volunteers for their outstanding efforts this year,” said Forsyth, who is currently acting President while Patrick Harrigan deals with some health issues. “Our association is growing quickly, and it is exciting to be a part of it!”

Classic cars on display

By C.J. PIKE

The ‘Classics’ were on display June 29, at the second annual Classic Car Show, which was put on by the Limerick/Newfield Lions Club.

It was the place to be as car owners from Maine and New Hampshire convened at the Industrial Park on Burnham Road in Limerick. At least a dozen cars were parked in the field, with the hoods open and the owners right there to answer any questions.

For anyone who grew up in the 50’s and 60’s, these cars were the envy of every teenager to own one, and to drive down Main Street, hoping to give a pretty girl a little ride around town.

Louis and Tammy Dropski took the Best of Show with their sweet little 1962 Chevy Corvette. Dropski has owned the vehicle since 1968 and 12 years ago, gave it a complete restoration. He drove it around all the time over the years, before deciding to restore it, which took him 10 years. The very sassy paint job is Tangelo Orange with Sunrise Pearl; and he did 99 percent of the restoration himself. The process is called ‘restomod.’

First place in the show went to Jonathan Therrian who was there with his 1972 Chevy Nova. Second place went to Richard Robichaud, who showed his 2017 Ford Mustang. And third place went to Tom Marsh, who was there with his cherry red 1969 Pontiac GTO.

All of the cars were beauties and looked like they came right out of the showroom.

New adventures await

After many years of dedicated service to Parsons Memorial Library Director Gus Hedden is off to seek new horizons. If you haven't had the chance

To stop by and say "Thank you" and "Best wishes, Gus" he will be working Sundays through July and training new library volunteers. Gus has also stepped up to once again coach the PML Book Cart Drill Team for the Alfred Festival Parade Drill Team on Saturday, July 20.

As Parsons Memorial Library plans for the future you may have questions, comments or valuable input to share. Perhaps you would like to get more involved or learn about volunteering. Or maybe you have a program idea to share.

Feel free to contact the board of trustees. Email them at trustees@alfredme.gov or drop a note in the suggestion box in the lobby. Find the agenda and minutes in the PML lobby. Read the selectmen's minutes while you're there. Knowledge is power.

The PML Community Survey continues until July 31st. Your participation will help them make good decisions about the library.

Town hall totals

The town clerk reports there was one birth in June, two deaths, two marriages, five altered dogs licensed, one unaltered dog licensed, and five hunting and fishing licenses sold.

Joyce Berk of Sebago, has published her first children's book, Tate, Levitate and the Old Woman. It is the story of squirrel twins, Tate and Levitate, who are sent to look for a place to have the family's monthly full moon celebration. They stumble on an unused fireplace. Soon, mysterious offerings like marshmallows and seeds begin to appear. The treats are curiously just right for squirrels. With tenacity, and cunning they find out who the secretive gift giver is and befriend her, an old woman named Marjorie. When Marjorie is hurt and alone in the woods, the twins must figure out a way to save her. They know that humans only find squirrels annoying, so they engage in a dangerous and surprising mission to save their beloved friend.

Q: What got you interested in writing initially?

A: In 1994 I was injured while playing volleyball. So I started going to the library and taking out books on writing. In 1998 I took a correspondence course and not only enjoyed the writing process, but the feedback that I got by mail.

Q: What inspired you to write this book?

A: 20 years ago, at a camp 'up north,' I was walking in the woods and found a piece of shale that had broken. I started playing with the pieces and created a little fireplace and that triggered my imagination. What if...???" Joyce also stated that her love of nature and animals are always a great source of inspiration.

Q: What did you enjoy most about writing the book?

A: Creating and imagining the characters and what they are doing.

Q: Where can we buy the book?

A: It is available online through Amazon, Barnes and Noble and Books-A-Million.

Joyce has also been published in Blood Horse, Hoofbeats, and Thoroughbredchampions.com, an online magazine. That sounded like a surprising beginning for a children's book writer. She explained that while living in Florida, she became part owner ("a very, very small part," she says) of a thoroughbred race horse and that enabled her to go to the stables and work with the horses. She also likes to go on spiritual retreats. She cites a 40 day retreat she attended in Wyoming that changed her life. She has two children and three grandchildren.

Joyce will be speaking at the Hiram Soldiers Memorial Library at 85 Main Street in Hiram on July 17 at 5 p.m.

Plants, anyone?

With hot days and plenty of rain, flower gardens have been flourishing. Especially ours. Unable to keep up with it, I've concluded the only thing to be done is to give part of it away. Kind neighbors have helped us solve the problem. As we drive towards the village I admire the lilies growing in other people's gardens – lilies which were formerly ours. So if you have a spot needing lilies, give us a call. We will be happy to share.

The best team is always on the ball!

Summer safety and your pets

Everyone is excited for the warm weather, cookouts, and beach days that summertime brings, but remember, there can be some summertime hazards that can be dangerous to our pets.

We love bringing our canine friends with us to summer events, but closed cars in the heat can be a source of overheating. On a hot day if the outside temperature is 85 degrees, a car can reach temperatures of 102 in 10 minutes and 120 in 30 minutes. Activities such as walking and running in hot temperatures with canine companions can result in heat stroke. Walking on hot pavement or asphalt can also cause burns to foot pads.

Insect bites can be another summertime risk. Bees, hornets, and other biting insects can result in hives, swelling, and in worse case scenario respiratory distress. When bringing dogs to the beach, you need to monitor your pets. It is not advisable for them to drink from water sources such as lakes, ponds, and oceans. Sand can heat to temperatures that can burn foot pads.

As a general rule if it is too hot for you, it is too hot for your pet. Test walking surfaces before your pet does and never leave your dog in a car when it is warm out.

Thomas "Tommy" H. Contois

Thomas "Tommy" H. Contois passed away on July 7, 2019 in Scarborough, surrounded by family and friends after a long and courageous battle with a blood disorder. Tommy was born on Sept. 2, 1950 in Sanford to Helen and Robert Contois. He grew up in Waterboro with his brother and two sisters and the town where he met the love of his life, Sharon Ramsdell. Tommy and Sharon married on May 9, 1970 and raised two daughters together.

Thomas H. Contois

Tommy attended Sanford High School and worked many years in local tanneries and eventually opened his own business, The Waterboro Trading Post before retiring and moving to Embden, Maine. He was an avid outdoorsman, car enthusiast and antique collector. For many years he would make the pilgrimage to a swap meet in Carlisle, Pennsylvania where he could share his passion and experiences with fellow collectors and made lifelong friendships.

One of Tommy's nicknames was "MacGyver;" a man who had an extraordinary knack for unconventional problem solving and could fix any and everything, and eventually passed those skills along to his daughters (much to the delight of their husbands). He never hesitated to help a friend or neighbor in their time of need. He was also affectionately called "Uncle Tom" by nieces, nephews and family friends and was known to handout dollars bills with each encounter.

Tommy joins his beloved mother and father in heaven. He leaves behind his cherished wife Sharon; his two daughters - Traci Dowd and her husband Michael of Kennebunkport and Terri Domingo and her husband Michael of Virginia, along with his grandson Marcus Domingo and granddaughter Corrie Domingo. He is also survived by his brother Dean Farwell and his wife Marlene of Hollis, sisters, Donna Tebbetts and her life partner Denny Hutchison of Ohio and Sally Morin and her husband Gene of Wells. He also leaves behind several nieces and nephews, a long list of dear friends and his doggie, "little tiger", Reba.

Jacqueline Choquette Picard, of Cumberland, Rhode Island and North Waterboro, died peacefully at home on June 28, 2019 surrounded by her loving family. Jackie was a dearly loved mother, grandmother (Mimmi), great-grandmother, sister, aunt, and a true friend to many. She was also a devoted wife who shared 61 years of marriage with her husband, Georges, until his death in 2012.

Jacqueline Choquette Picard

She gave selflessly of her time and energy to her seven children, raising them to know how much she loved them and sharing with them her zest for life, her faith in "Divine Order," and her adventurous spirit. This is also the legacy she leaves for her grandchildren and great-grandchildren. She will be deeply missed her children: Charles Picard and his wife Ania; Paulette Watkins and her husband Mark; Valerie Livedalen and her husband Gary; Sylvia Picard-Schmitt and her husband Jack Schmitt; Helene Picard-Sanchez and her husband José Sanchez; Dr. Joel Picard and his wife Sarah; and Jocelyne Fauerbach and her husband Kurt, and her grandchildren: Ian and Kyle Picard; Annie Watkins; Brian Livedalen and his wife Natalie; Tim Livedalen and his wife Rachel; Emily Schmitt Dennis and her husband Brady; Patrick, Daniel and Peter Schmitt; Leah, Carla, Nicholas and Laura Sanchez; James and Emma Picard, and Andrew and Elise Fauerbach. She was also the loving grandmother of John K. Picard, who died tragically a week ago in a skiing accident. Jackie was also greatly loved by her four great-grandchildren: James and Clare Dennis, and Evie and Rowena Livedalen.

Jackie was born in Pawtucket, RI in 1929 to Sylva and Yvonne (Normandin) Choquette. She spent a happy childhood in Pawtucket and summers on the shores of Oakland Beach in Warwick, RI. She is survived by her sister Pauline Walsh and her husband Richard, and two brothers, Norman, and Robert and his wife Pauline. She was predeceased by her sister Muriel Hazebrouck.

Jackie attended high school in Goffstown, NH at Villa Augustina and then earned her Bachelor of Arts degree from Regis College in Weston, MA, where she remained active in the Alumni Association. After college, she married the love of her life, Georges, and they moved to Washington, DC, where Georges was stationed as a dentist in the Air Force. They returned to Rhode Island to raise their family shortly after the birth of their first child.

Jackie and Georges spent summers at Lake Arrowhead Estates in North Waterboro, where the whole family enjoyed canoeing, fishing, playing board games and tennis, reading, and connecting with neighbors.

In addition to raising her family, Jackie worked alongside her husband Georges at his dental practice in Woonsocket whenever the need arose. She was an accomplished artist and a gifted poet as well as a newly published author. In her book, Divining Moments, published on Amazon, Jackie shares her profound faith in God and highlights moments in her life when she felt that Divine connection.

Jackie was an active and energetic presence in her community who gave generously of herself and impacted many lives. She was a lifelong learner, had traveled to most of the 50 states and many different countries, and was adventurous in spirit - whether it was ziplining in Mexico or trying an exotic food. She was a longtime parishioner at St. Joseph's Church in Ashton, where she served in many ministries. She was also a member of Club Aram Pothier of Woonsocket and the Rhode Island Watercolor Society.

Visitation was held on July 7 at O'Neill Funeral Home, 3102 Mendon Road in Cumberland. A Funeral Mass was celebrated July 8 at St. Joseph's Church, 1303 Mendon Rd., Cumberland with burial following in Precious Blood Cemetery, Woonsocket. CLASSIC CARS

I spoke with Norman Lawnsby from Limington, who had his 1966 Chevrolet Chevelle there which he purchased just 6 years ago. A 4-year restoration project put it in great shape. The original car came with a bench seat, but he preferred bucket seats. So, those and a metallic cobalt blue paint job, makes it a really cool car to go cruising.

Some of the other cars that I checked out were a 1965 Chevy Bel Air, owned by Greg and Bonny Randall from Freedom, New Hampshire. It was an original from the plant in Fitchburg, Ma. Carl Tarbox had a 1937 Chevy 2-door and Steve Wood had a 1963 Mercury Marauder. Wayne Adams was also there with his 1972 Jeep Commando.

I spoke with Lion Theresa Gaetjens who is the secretary who said that everyone that attended had a chance to vote on the cars. They had a raffle and concessions, and played some really cool 50-60's music. Admission was by donation and all proceeds go back into the community.

Lions helping out for the event, besides her, were Elaine Jedrychowski, Su Cartisano, Mark Cartisano, Faith Smith, Dominic Vermette, Peter Vermette and Joe Iannazzo. Troop #329 from Limerick was there selling baked goods for the event. The Lions are planning a Golf Tournament which will be held in August at the Indian Head Golf Course.

Game Night

Game night will be held at the Newfield Historical Society building at 64 Elm Street tomorrow night, Friday, July 12, starting at 6 p.m. Everybody is welcome to attend and bring along their favorites games.

The Northern York County Rod and Gun Club auction will be held on Saturday, July 20 on clubhouse grounds on Lewis Hill Road. It will start at 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Everyone is welcome and refreshments are available.

Family chosen for Limerick build Habitat for Humanity of York County has chosen a family to partner with for its next home building project. Sarah Juarez will purchase the new home that will begin construction in July in Limerick. The Limerick home will be Habitat's 30th home in York County. For the first time, Care-A-Vanner volunteers will assist in framing the home. Care-A-Vanners are volunteers from all over the country who travel in campers and RVs to volunteer on Habitat for Humanity build sites for weeks at a time.

"For the last 9 years I have been working in the medical field. I truly enjoy my job and being able to help people. I have also been working hard to obtain a mortgage with no luck. I began to feel discouraged that my dreams of stability and safe, affordable housing would never be an option my family and I," said future homeowner Sarah Juarez. "I never thought someone would actually help me build a house for my family. We are overwhelmed with joy and thankfulness. Homeownership is truly a humbling experience."

A Walk to Raise the Roof and Pancake Breakfast on Aug. 10 will kick off fundraising for building materials for the new home. Walkers can also register at 8:30 a.m. at St. Matthews Church, 19 Dora Lane, Limerick. Walk options include either a .5 or 2.75 mile walk around Pickerel Pond. Online registration and sponsorship opportunities are available at www.habitatyorkcounty.org. For more information on the event, please call Habitat at 985-4850.

Habitat volunteers are currently working to complete a build in Springvale. To build affordable, energy-efficient homes, Habitat utilizes volunteer labor, donations of money and material, and the help of the Habitat homeowner. Habitat is responsible for land acquisition and development, procuring all materials and hiring the necessary licensed services to build the home (electrician, plumber, etc.). Habitat's construction manager trains and leads volunteers building alongside our partner family throughout the construction of the home. Each home costs approximately $200,000 to build.

Homeowners contribute 400 sweat equity hours, working side by side with volunteers to build the home that will save them money on utilities over time. The family also participates in financial and homeowner education classes and are stabilized in their new home with an affordable mortgage.

There are many opportunities to volunteer on the Limerick Build, at the ReStore, or assisting with weatherizations. Anyone interested in participating or donating to Habitat is encouraged to call the HFHYC office at 985-4850 or visit the website at www.habitatyorkcounty.org.
